

Learn How Street Medicine Helps the Homeless Community

Join us for a 3-day Street Medicine Foundations Course

The Street Medicine Foundations Course<sup>1</sup> is designed to teach you the foundations of delivering health care to people experiencing unsheltered homelessness. Training is recommended for clinicians, non-clinicians and administrators who are currently doing street medicine or who are interested in learning more about street medicine and program development.

Educational objectives

- Identify key components of the social teaching of street medicine and its influence on street medicine program development.
- Develop a plan to deliver equitable, quality, patient-led street medicine.
- Compare and contrast federal, state and local financial sustainability models for street medicine in California.
